

Narrative Writing Reinforcement Worksheet

1. Creating a Character

Exercise:

- Write a few sentences about a character.
- Include their name, age, and one interesting fact about them.
- Add one sensory detail—how do they look, sound, or smell?

2. Describing a Place with Sensory Details

Exercise:

- Pick a place (a beach, a park, a spooky house).
- Write 3 sentences describing what you see, hear, or feel.
- Example: The waves crash against the shore, the salty breeze tickles my nose, and the sand feels warm under my feet.

3. Starting a Story with Sensory Details

Exercise:

- Complete this sentence: One day, I found a mysterious box...
- Describe the box using touch, sight, or smell.
- Example: Its surface was rough, covered in dust, and smelled like old books

4. Writing a Conversation with Sensory Actions

Exercise:

- Write a short chat between two friends.
- Use actions to show emotions (smiling, shivering, clenching fists).
- Example:
 - "Did you hear that?" Jake whispered, his hands trembling.
 - "It's just the wind," Mia said, rolling her eyes.

5. Showing Feelings in a Story with Sensory Details

Exercise:

- Rewrite this sentence without directly saying the feeling: Lily was excited about her birthday.
- Example: Lily bounced on her toes, her heart racing as she tore open the gift-wrapped box.
